RECREATIONAL SAFETY SURFACING

Construction, Renovations &
Proactive Maintenance Services

Welcome to Robertson Recreational Surfaces, where our passion for innovative and compliant recreational surfacing is evident in every project we undertake. As industry leaders, we excel in creating poured rubber, synthetic turf, and tile surfaces that not only enhance environments but also ensure the highest levels of creativity and safety. Our active membership with the International Play Equipment Manufacturers Association (IPEMA), and strict adherence to ASTM standards, highlight our unwavering commitment to quality and reliability.

We pride ourselves on serving a broad spectrum of clients, offering compliant surfacing options that cater to numerous audiences and settings. Whether it's bustling public parks, intimate private facilities, vibrant schools, or dynamic commercial spaces, Robertson provides bespoke surfacing solutions that resonate with each unique community we serve.

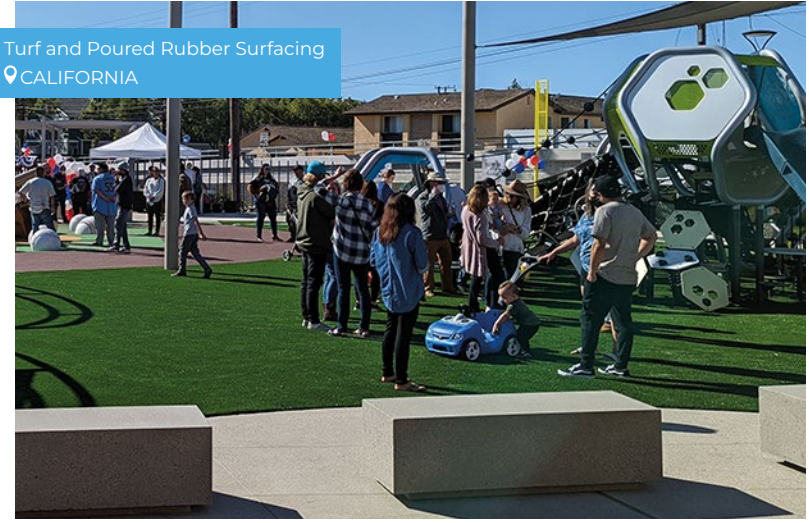

To maintain the excellence and longevity of your surface, consider consulting with your local Robertson representative about our comprehensive maintenance and repair services, tailored for both new and existing installations. This commitment to post-installation care ensures that our surfaces remain compliant, beautiful, and functional for years to come.

As you explore this showcase, witness our dedication to redefining recreational surfacing. Our projects across the nation stand as testaments to our mission to craft inspiring, safe, and sustainable environments that foster joy and community engagement. Join us in celebrating the beauty and innovation that Robertson Recreational Surfaces brings to every project, emphasizing our promise to exceed expectations and enrich play experiences everywhere.
